WHAT'S HAPPENING

TSSAA.org Website and Related Media Information from the 2012 BlueCross Spring Fling

2012 BlueCross Spring Fling had 1.1M page views during the week's activities. 200K unique visitors came to the site.

The most visited pages were related to baseball as twice as many visits were made there than for softball and track.

The baseball Class AAA game was the highest viewed single page with visits from 30,000 users. The second most visited individual sport was for the Class AAA softball game (27,364 visits) followed by the Class A baseball game with 26,053 visits.

62,673 visits came from Apple iPhone (28K), and Apple iPad (14K). These two devices accounted for more than 50% of the mobile access.

Outside the United States, Pichincha, a province of Ecuador located in the northern sierra region, had someone who was interested in the BlueCross Spring Fling. (Quito, capital of Ecuador resides in the province). There are two mountain peaks, both more than 15,000 feet high are visible from the city of Quito and are easily climbed. But, beware, one of the peaks is an active volcano that last erupted October 1999 and covered Quito with several inches of ash.

North Carolina, Texas, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, Illinois, South Carolina, New York, Kentucky, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Alabama and Virginia all had more than 1,000 visits to the site.

In Tennessee, there were visits from 180 different cities - ranging from 22,600 people from Nashville to 2 from Crab Orchard.

The TSSAA hotline, where scores would be read to the caller, had 600 calls, all but 20 from in-state.

We are seeing a dramatic shift in how people get spring fling results - as sending results out via Twitter accounted for a significant portion of how results were found. The TSSAA Twitter feed picked up an additional 400 followers and was a major source of score reporting by the TSSAA. Nearly 2,800 people follow the TSSAA twitter account.

Hall of Fame Nomination Deadline

The deadline for Hall of Fame nominations is Friday, November 30. Anyone interested in obtaining a Hall of Fame nomination form should contact Heather Carter at the TSSAA or by visiting the Forms section of the TSSAA website.

All nominees should meet at least one of the following criteria: (1) be at least 50 years old, (2) have been retired at least three years, or (3) have been out of the particular field or category for which he/she is being nominated at least three years. The three nomination categories are Administrator, Coach, and Official.

Hall of Fame Luncheon Set for 2013

The TSSAA Hall of Fame luncheon will again be held at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Murfreesboro, located on Medical Center Parkway. It is set for Saturday, April 20, 2013. We hope you will make plans to join us as we induct a new Hall of Fame class. The 2013 selections will be announced in March.

TSSAA Hall of Champions

Benefit Basketball Games

Schools may choose any two dates to play Hall of Champions basketball games between Tuesday, November 13 and Saturday, November 17, with an unlimited number of games on those two days. These games will not count against the 24 games a school is allowed to schedule during the regular season.

In order to host a Hall of Champions basketball game(s), please fill out the request form found on our website (www.tssaa.org). You may fax (615-889-0544) or mail (P. O. Box 319, Hermitage, TN 37076) this information to our office to the attention of Heather Carter.

The host school is responsible for sending in the financial form found on our website (www.tssaa.org) under 'forms', along with receipts to TSSAA. Each host school should send 75% of the gross gate AFTER PAYING GAME OFFICIALS (referees only) to the Hall of Champions fund.

If you have any questions please feel free to contact us (615-889-6740).

We would like to thank all of the schools that participated in Hall of Champions games in 2011. Your generous support allows us to continue the mission of the Hall of Champions, which is to tell the history of high school athletics in Tennessee.

We want to give special recognition to the following schools for their outstanding efforts in raising money for the Hall of Champions through benefit basketball games, by raising $2,000 or more in its 2011 Hall of Champions games:

Christ Presbyterian Academy ($3,528.00)
Obion County Central High School ($3007.50)
Haywood High School ($3004.50)
Dyer County High School ($2242.50)

We would also like to thank the following individuals for contributing to the TSSAA Hall of Champions fund, either in general, or as a gift in memoriam.

Hyde has directed that effort for the franchise in a multi-faceted way.

Mr. Hyde has been integral to the TSSAA and high school athletics across Tennessee. He has served a key role since the Tennessee Titans and the TSSAA formed a partnership in 2007 when the Tennessee Titans Foundation began sponsoring the Mr. Football Awards. If it were not for the efforts of Mr. Hyde and the Titans organization, the award may not have been able to continue to this day.

Hyde also serves as the club's contact for grants to improve football fields at area schools and parks. To date, more than $650,000 has been secured in recent years from a program funded by Adams, his fellow NFL owners and NFL players to improve football fields in Nashville/Davidson County and Nashville's seven contiguous counties. THE RIGHT TEAM: AN UPDATE

STEPHEN BARGATZE

TSSAA, is starting another year in the world of sports, education and sportsmanship. But sometimes it is the athletes themselves that make it worth it. Here are some of my favorite quotes from some great former high schools athletes.

New Orleans Saint RB George Rogers when asked about the upcoming season. “I want to rush for 1,000 or 1,500 yards, whichever comes first.”

And, upon hearing Joe Jacoby of the ‘Skins say “I’d run over my own mother to win the Super Bowl, “Matt Milen of the Raiders said, “To win, I’d run over Joe’s mom too.”

Football commentator and former player Joe Theismann 1996: “Nobody in football should be called a genius. A genius is a guy like Norman Einstein.”

Senior basketball player at the University of Pittsburgh: “I’m going to graduate on time, no matter how long it takes..”
“Bill Peterson, a Florida State football coach: “You guys line up alphabetically by height” and “You guys pair up in groups of three, and then line up in a circle.”

Shaquille O’Neal on whether he had visited the Parthenon during his visit to Greece: “I can’t really remember the names of the clubs that we went to.”

Pat Williams, Orlando Magic general manager, on his team’s 7-27 record: “We can’t win at home. We can’t win on the road.... As general manager, I just can’t figure out where else to play.”

Bernard Childress, Belmont Univeristy, explaining why he appeared nervous during a game. “My sister is expecting a baby anytime, and I just don’t know if I’m going to be an uncle or an aunt.”

The new year has started up and we are busy doing 9th graders and teachers in-services. If you would like to get a head of the game contact Courtney Brunetz at cbrunetz@tssaa.org for dates available. After the administration meeting in September the dates start to fill up. Once again the Governor Highway Safety has sponsored our program so there is little to no cost for your school. We are willing at attend wellness classes also, which means we will attend all classes you have that day. So, send Courtney an email to schedule your school today!

2012-13 BlueCross Championship Series Kicks Off

With the start of the 2012-13 school year, BlueCross BlueShield of Tennessee and the TSSAA are kicking off the second year of the BlueCross Championship SeriesSM. Launched last fall, the BlueCross Championship Series is designed to recognize athletic excellence and sportsmanship in high schools across the state.

The winners from the 2011-12 school year will be announced in November at the TSSAA regional administrators meetings. The BlueCross Championship Series recognizes those Tennessee high schools with the highest performing athletic programs each school year. Schools are awarded points based on quarterfinal, semifinal, final round and championship appearances, with the potential points earned increasing at each level of competition. The total points earned will be divided by the number of sports offered at that school to create an average point total.

At the end of the school year, those schools with the top average point totals in their competitive division and class will be named the BlueCross ChampionsSM and each receive a $2,500 cash donation from BlueCross.

The BlueCross Championship Series groups schools according to their competitive division and class as assigned by the TSSAA, with a total of two Division II and three Division I classes.

Sports with individual and team competitions will earn points based on team composite scores, not individual performances. Sports without a tiered quarterfinal, semifinal, final and championship round system will be awarded points based on final standings at championship events.

As a way of recognizing sportsmanship among Tennessee high schools, only schools that have no reported incidents of unsportsmanlike behavior during the school year will be eligible to win the BlueCross Championship Series in its competitive class.

A complete, detailed breakdown of the BlueCross Championship Series criteria is available online at www.facebook.com/bcbstchampions.

The Real Value of Sports Lighting Provided by Musco Lighting

One of the most important facility decisions a municipality or sports organizations will make is determining whether to add lighting. Quality sports lighting can provide multiple benefits that will add value to a venue decades after the initial investment. Administrators and volunteer-based organizations across the country have benefitted from strategic lighting initiatives that can make a significant impact on a program's participation, revenues and scheduling availability.

Why not light?

Sports lighting discussions regarding outdoor facilities limited to daytime usage typically start with a fundamental question, "Why should we light our field?" The answer consists of reasons ranging from convenience to expansion to improved finances.

One of the most critical factors in the analysis of lighting a facility is the ability to increase practice times and competition, which can directly impact a program's expansion goals. More practices and more games often equals more players. Plus, the popularity of youth athletics and adult recreational sports, combined with adult work schedules, leave many communities struggling to supply enough playing surfaces.

Lighting is the cost-effective solution that provides room for everyone. It lends scheduling flexibility to not only spur participation but service growing demand. This trend is illustrated in southern states where daytime heat and expansion have led to the development of all-night leagues and midnight practices— concepts gaining momentum.

Convenience generates revenue

From another convenience standpoint, lighted fields and evening games afford working parents— many who are coaches and volunteers— more opportunities to attend games and be involved. It also helps organizations schedule games and events to accommodate families with members playing at different levels and different sites.

Additionally, for athletes and the greater community, few experiences match the sense of pride and excitement that comes from competing 'under the lights'.

Enhancing a field with quality sports lighting increases gate receipts, and also generates additional revenue from increased concession stand sales, paid parking and additional tournaments.

New Musco lighting and monitoring systems have allowed the Novi Parks, Recreation, and Cultural Services Department in Michigan to expand play to more than 180 baseball and softball teams, rebuild community programming and continue winning bids to host national ASA tournaments.

Efficient alternative to new construction

From a capital standpoint, illuminating an existing field can double its use for about half the cost of new considering the rising cost of materials and land acquisition, plus the grading, drainage and sod necessary to properly prep a field site.

Upon completion of the playing surface and adjacent areas, facility amenities such as fencing, bleachers, bathrooms, dugouts, parking lots, concession stands and press boxes must be built and maintained to accommodate participants and visitors.

Timing is another key factor. Lighting installations are faster than building new fields, and can create a playable field within six to eight weeks compared to the lengthy timeframe involved in new field construction which may take several seasons to accomplish from concept to completion.

With ever-tightening operational budgets and a growing emphasis on sports and fitness, the decision to add sports lighting makes good financial sense and deepens community pride.
